

NAYLOR: Israel must get on with it and finish the job by flattening Gaza

GAZA STRIP — Maniacal, bloodthirsty animals. Rabid dogs.

These were the men of Hamas on October 7, 2023 as 3,000 Hamas terrorists streamed out of the Gaza Strip and into Southern Israel.

Kill. Kill. Kill.

They only had one thing on their minds: to kill. And when they weren't too busy killing, to rape.

The Western Standard, along with select other Canadian media, was given a classified showing of a movie put together by the Israeli Defence Forces on what happened that day. They used Hamas body cameras and live streams — yes, they are so depraved they couldn't wait to show the world their handwork — and the cell phone footage of the victims, traffic cameras and intercepted communications between the terrorists and their commanders was also used.

Small snippets have been made public. Terrorists shooting a dog. An excited Hamas fighter who phones home to tell his proud father he "had killed 10 Jews with my bare hands. Allah Akbar!" His mother was overcome with emotion and started to cry, she was so gleeful about her son's actions.

The 49-minutes of footage can only be described as the worst snuff film imaginable.

The terrorists first took to traffic interchanges where they shot and killed anyone driving by. That would make escape impossible for anyone trying to drive to safety.

The Hamas could not believe their luck when they stumbled into the Nova music festival. They had no idea thousands of Israeli young people would have gathered there to sing and dance.

They slaughtered 378.

Kill. Kill. Kill.

Into numerous kibbutzes, the madmen streamed — riding a high given them by doses of Captagon, a stimulant and hallucinogenic.

Not wanting to waste ammunition they lit homes on fire, leaving entire families to burn or choke to death.

The video shows two young boys being dragged out of bed with their parents. Their parents were taken outside to a shelter and shot to death in front of the horrified boys.

The youngsters, trembling in fear, were brought back inside, likely with the aim of kidnapping them back into Gaza. The terrorist helped himself to a soft drink from the fridge as one boy told the younger, "Daddy's dead, daddy's dead."

The most disgusting part was when a group of Hamas decided to cut the head off one of their victims. One of them grabbed a large garden hoe and began hacking away. Mercifully, the man was already dead before the desecration happened.

Kill. Kill. Kill.

In another scene, a terrorist is captured begging for a knife so he can cut the head off another victim.

"Play with it. Make sure you get pictures playing with it," they are told over the radio.

The film doesn't show any of Hamas' sex crime they perpetrated that day. The countless rapes, the cutting off of breasts and, then again, playing with them.

One of the saddest clips in the video shows a dead Israeli soldier being thrown into the back on a pick-up truck and driven back into the Gaza Strip to be hung in public.

As the truck drives through a village, young children, 10, 11, 12, run beside it, jumping up and trying to hit the soldier's body with their fists.

Another generation indoctrinated with hate.

Kill. Kill. Kill.

By the time their bloody rampage was finally beaten back — the first IDF soldiers didn't arrive on the scene for three hours — 800 men, women and children were dead, along with 300 soldiers.

About 250 people were kidnapped back to Gaza. Fifty still remain in captivity with only about 20 left alive.

Let's be clear, the IDF can wipe out Gaza in a matter of hours.

Now, 19 months later the men and women of the IDF are tired, but resolute.

"I don't want to see any more soldiers get killed," one reservist told the WS at the Tel Aviv airport.

"They say there are 20 hostages left alive. But we could be playing these games for years to come. I'm sorry but it's time to finish the job and flatten them."

And he's right.

While some in the world, mainly Canada, Great Britain and France, wring their collective hands and criticize Israel from above, the tiny country of 9.8 million has stopped listening.

I can tell you from first hand experience, Canada — and it's Jew-hating Liberals — is not highly thought of in Israel.

When people found out where we were from, they all had the same question: What is happening in Toronto and Montreal? They have heard of Jewish schools being firebombed and synagogues shot up.

And don't get them started on the Hamas-supporting marches every weekend.

The Israeli people only shake their heads when we explain it is only because of the incompetence of the police forces and politicians in those two cities.

So now, Israel must ignore the whiners of the world and flatten Gaza.

Look back at the Second World War — did the Allies and Soviets stop in the suburbs of Berlin? No, they fought right to the doors of Adolf Hitler's bunker. They cut off the head of the snake.

And this is what Israel must do. Flatten the head of the snake.

Do a massive pamphlet drop telling Gazans they have 24 hours to surrender to Israeli forces. Let them into the West Bank, where other Palestinians will be able to take care of them. God knows, other Arab countries want nothing to do with them.

The world will be outraged. Let them be. Ignore them, like Israel will.

Then Israel may get a few years of peace, until the next indoctrinated, hateful generations plan their attack.

Naylor and the other media had their trip to Israel sponsored by the Exigent foundation, dedicated to fostering knowledge regarding the threat posed by extremism to liberal, western democracies.
